

Standards of Conduct

DETROIT-WAYNE MENTAL HEALTH AUTHORITY ("AUTHORITY")

These Standards of Conduct apply to all Authority Board members, executives, employees and independent contractors (collectively, "Representatives"). Authority Representatives are privileged to represent the Authority which, in conjunction with its provider network, provides critically important services to individuals who suffer from mental illness, developmental disabilities, or substance use disorders ("Consumers"). The Authority's mission is to ensure that all Consumers receive clinically appropriate, humane and compassionate services, of the same quality that one would expect for their child, parent or spouse.

The Authority is a governmental entity and is funded by tax revenues; primarily through the Medicaid program. Authority Representatives are expected to protect and preserve these scarce resources, and ensure they are used efficiently and only for lawful and proper purposes.

This document, together with the Authority's Human Resources Policy Manual, communicates the Authority's standards of conduct. But no written document can cover all situations. Authority Representatives are expected to act honestly, ethically and in the best interests of the Authority and its Consumers, and to treat Consumers, fellow employees and others in the fashion in which you would like to be treated.
